February is National Pet Dental Health Month!

Did you know that by the time your pet is 3 years old, he or she will likely already have early evidence of periodontal disease? Early detection and treatment are critical. Periodontal disease not only affects your pet's teeth and gums, it can affect their kidneys, liver and heart as well.

Here are 10 reasons you should take care of your pet's teeth.

February Dental Health Month Special:

Up to $75 off for dogs and up to $50 off for cats for full mouth dental x-rays.

Ticks, Dogs and Winter Weather: The Danger is Still Here

Did you know that ticks are not just a spring and summer problem? You might be surprised to learn that ticks can be found year round, and not just in warmer climates. Unfortunately, this means that just because it's winter, dog parents cannot let their guard down when it comes to ticks. Learn why winter ticks should concern you. . .
